Dear Campus Colleagues and Students,

It is once again time to complete UW-Madison's online HIPAA training. This training is required by the HIPAA regulations to ensure that UW-Madison staff and students protect the privacy and security of patients' and research participants' Protected Health Information ("PHI").

"2022-23 HIPAA Privacy & Security Training" is an online course in Canvas required of all faculty, staff, students, and volunteers at UW-Madison who work or train in areas where they may have access to PHI. If you are receiving this message, you have been enrolled in the training and are required to complete it – even if you don't work directly with PHI. This is because you may have incidental contact with PHI or might encounter potential HIPAA violations, and should know how to respond in such situations. Additionally, please note that you are still required to take this training even if you have completed UW Health's Compliance Training, or if it has been less than a year since you completed the UW-Madison HIPAA training.

If you have not deactivated "Course Invitation" notifications within your Canvas account, you should receive a Course Invitation email directly from Canvas about the training. Please click on the link in that invitation to access and take the training. If you deactivated Canvas Invitation notifications or for some other reason miss the email message from Canvas, you may access the course directly at this link: <https://canvas.wisc.edu/courses/325399>.

You are expected to complete this training and its quiz no later than Friday, October 14, 2022.

Contact your HIPAA Privacy Coordinator with any questions about timing or the content of the training.

If you require technical assistance, contact the DoIT Help Desk at help@doit.wisc.edu or 264-HELP (264-4357).

Thank you for your attention to this training requirement.
